

A Simple Switch

Changing payroll doesn't have to feel like changing everything

Between multi-state rules, deadlines, and year-end filings, payroll has a way of becoming a second job. Here's what changes when Helpside runs it for you.

The Pain Points You're Probably Already Living With

Multi-state complexity. Different tax rates, different filing rules, different deadlines, one employee working from a different state can multiply the paperwork.

Deadlines that don't forgive. Miss a filing date or a garnishment order and the penalty is real money, not just a warning.

Year-end scramble. W-2s, quarterly filings, and reconciliations all land at once, right when everything else is also busy.

No one to call. When something looks wrong on a paycheck, "submit a ticket and wait" isn't good enough when an employee is asking about their pay today.

What Helpside Does

Multi-state payroll processing, handled correctly the first time

A dedicated payroll representative who knows your account, not a rotating queue

Online payroll and HR access for you and your employees, anytime

Time and attendance and PTO tracking built in

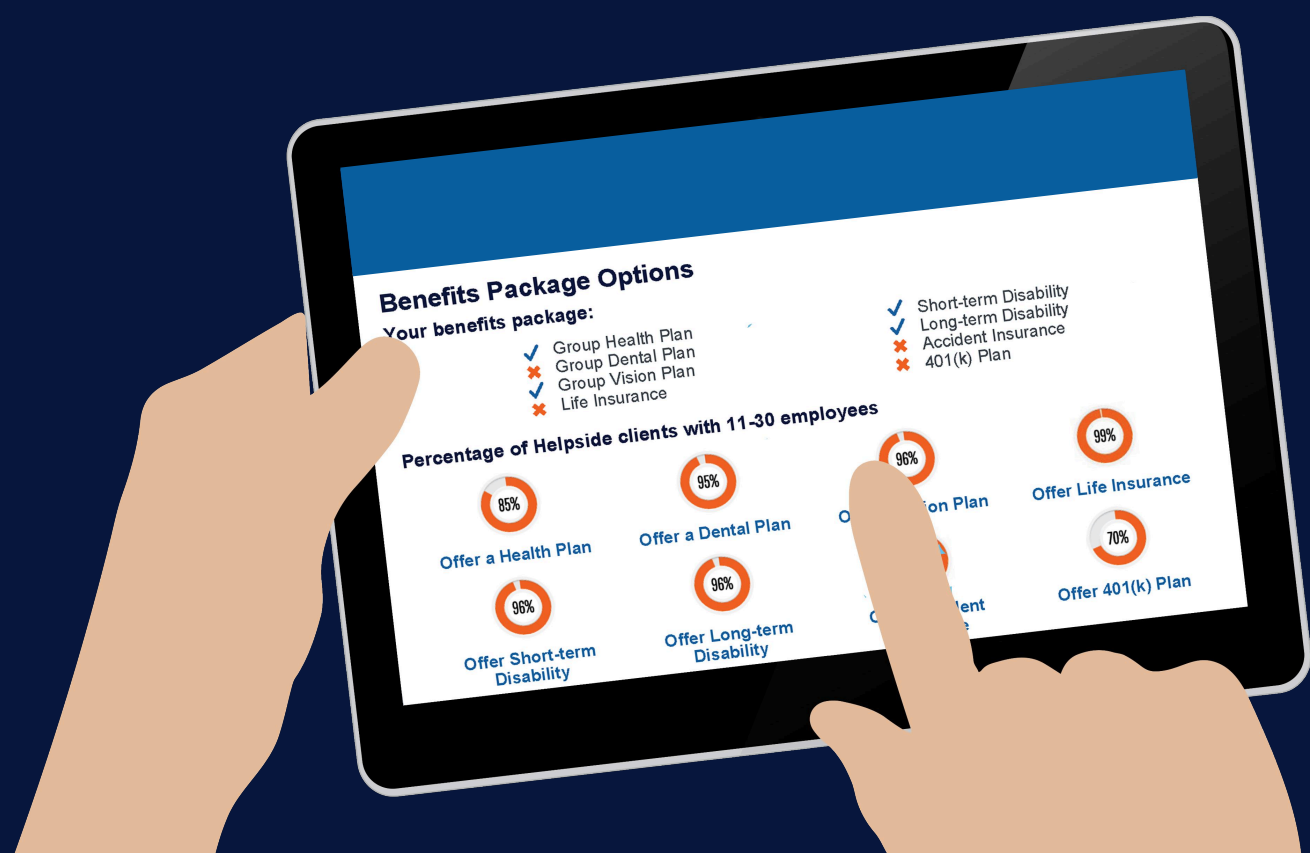

Garnishments, employment verifications, W-2s, and quarterly tax filings, all handled

Why It Matters

Accuracy you don't have to double-check. Multi-state rules are handled by people who do this every day.

One less deadline living in your head. Filings and deadlines become someone else's job to track, not yours.

A real point of contact. When a question comes up, you're calling a person who already knows your account.

Switching Payroll, Without The Chaos

1 Plan the Transition

We confirm your first payroll date, meet your team, and map out every deadline in advance so nothing is a surprise.

2 Set Up Your Company and Employees

You complete a guided setup, and each employee gets a secure link to enter their own tax, direct deposit, and I-9 information online, about 15 to 20 minutes per person.

3 Train and Go Live

We walk you through the system, run your first payroll alongside your team, and then hand you off to your ongoing payroll specialist.

Curious what this looks like for your business?

Ask your broker to make the introduction, or visit helpside.com

Talk to Your Broker →